3. Discussed the letter from JCAE to the Director of 16 October requesting advice as to whether or not Philby had access to Restricted Data or formerly Restricted Data material. I indicated I had been informed by [REDACTED] that he did not and that we planned to handle this orally if at all possible in accordance with the Director's request. I also added that in some cases they had been insistent on a written response to complete their record. Admiral Taylor suggested that the question of Philby's access should be checked with DDI and Jim Angleton. Colonel White indicated that if we had to supply a written answer it should be done in very careful terms.

4. Mentioned the letter from Chairman Eastland of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee asking if [REDACTED], could provide assistance to the Subcommittee on the true purposes of the Soviet view of the Pugwash Conference. I indicated that

5. Mentioned that Ed Lyerly, legal adviser to Rimestad, is fully alert to the problems with the Department of State in S. 1035 and working with others will attempt to clarify the situation with Meeker and Katzenbach. I indicated there was still no evidence of House hearings this year.

6. On the wiretap bill, I indicated that Mr. Houston and I would be meeting with Fred Vinson as soon as possible. Current indications were that no action would be taken on this bill for the next few weeks although we are watching this.

8. Discussed the Federal Employee Labor Management bills indicating that they were not active and that there is a basic exemption for the Agency, the FBI, and other security functions. Colonel White inquired what was our current basis for fending off union activities. While the CIA legislation gives us some protection, I indicated I thought there was an Executive Order which was also pertinent but added that I would look further into this.

9. I mentioned the continuing resolution, H. J. Res. 888, indicating that in every likelihood this would not receive Senate approval. It was agreed that we would simply have to wait and see on this.
